Vedanta to retain coal as base energy source

AGENCIES
New Delhi, September 16

MINING AND METALS conglomerate Vedanta will continue to rely on coal as its primary energy source for mining operations while aiming to increase the share of renewable sources in its energy mix, Deshnee Naidoo, CEO, Vedanta Resources, told Reuters on Tuesday.

Coal accounts for nearly 70% of Vedanta's energy mix, she said. "Coal will be, for us in Vedanta, the baseload contributor," she added.

The company, however, plans to raise the share of renewable energy in its operations by reducing its dependence on coal-based power to around 50-60% over the next 3-4 years, Naidoo said.

She also said the demerger of its Indian arm, Vedanta, will be completed in the current financial year. "Yes, I'm very optimistic. I think for me the work right now is actually restructuring the organisation as if we are already a demerged company," she told PTI.

Speaking at FT Live Energy Transition Summit India, she also said, "US tariffs will be slowing down the pace and scale of energy transition in the world."

She stated that the tariffs announced by the US on Indian exports would not hit the economy broadly as domestic consumption drives most of its growth. However, it may fragment global decarbonisation efforts.

NCLAT clears hurdle for demerger

THE NATIONAL COMPANY Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) has cleared Vedanta's plan to restructure its power and metal businesses by overturning an order of NCLT, Mumbai, that had blocked the move.

The case centred on Talwandi Sabo Power, part of Vedanta, which had filed a scheme of arrangement before NCLT as part of a wider demerger. The restructuring plan covers four group firms—Vedanta Aluminium Metal, Talwandi Sabo Power, Malco Energy, and Vedanta Iron and Steel—along with their shareholders and creditors.
